Table of Contents

1. Progress and Lessons Learned from Seven Years of the Truth, Racial Healing & Transformation™ Movement

PART I — TRHT Framework: Visioning Work

3. When Is the Right Time? Middlesex Community College
4. Envisioning TRHT Work in the Deep South: Millsaps College
5. TRHT as a Visioning Tool for Standing up: Pepperdine University’s Office for Community Belonging—Pepperdine University
6. Anticipating the Success of the First-Year TRHT Initiatives: Rutgers University–Camden
7. Visioning in the Midst of Transition: State University of New York at Oswego

PART II — TRHT Framework: Narrative Change

9. Teaching a More Complete Narrative of our Past: Agnes Scott College
10. Narrative Change at the Citadel: The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina
11. Inclusive History and Images Project: Loyola Marymount University

PART III — TRHT Framework: Racial Healing and Relationship Building

12. Racial Healing for the Healers: Rutgers University–Newark
14. Translating the TRHT Framework into Replicable Strategies to Inform Transformational Change: UC Irvine’s Deconstructing Diversity Initiative—University of California, Irvine

PART IV — TRHT Framework: Law

15. A Citadel Circle in Response to Mass Shootings and Gun Violence: The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina
PART V — TRHT Framework: Economy

17. Addressing Equity Across the State’s Educational Systems: Missouri College and Career Attainment Network
18. Campus-Wide Events to Explore Economy and Separation Pillar: Suffolk University

PART VI — TRHT Framework: Separation

19. The First Peoples Project of the Alamo Colleges District: San Antonio’s Historic and Enduring Presence of Native Americans in the Global South—Alamo Community Colleges District
20. The Center for Culture, Equity, and Empowerment: Confronting the History of Marginalization in Higher Education—George Mason University
21. Co-Creating a Restorative Campus Culture: The Evolution of Loyola Marymount University’s TRHT Alliance—Loyola Marymount University
22. Disrupting Separation by Planting the Seeds of Narrative Change: Marymount University
23. It Takes a Spark to Build a Fire: Middlesex Community College
24. Race on Campus: A Faculty and Professional Learning Community Case Study—Suffolk University
25. Empowering Youth and Centering Indigenous Voices to Address Separation and Support Healing: University of California, Irvine
26. An Expansive Approach to Defining and Capturing Meaningful TRHT Outcomes
27. From Framework to Praxis: Developing the TRHT-Focused Campus Climate Assessment Toolkit